"All In a Panic." #106 – When Joan starts looking to hire a chef for her restaurant, she proves to have unreasonably high expectations and when an old flame of Toni's comes back in town she realizes maybe it's time to embrace her divorce, on GIRLFRIENDS, Monday, February 7, 2005 (9:00-9:30 PM, ET/PT) on the UPN Network. Katy Garretson directed the episode written by Karin Gist.

After interviewing several highly qualified chefs, Joan discovers Desiree (Paulette Ivory) is the perfect match for her restaurant. Unfortunately, Joan learns that Desiree and William had been a couple and Joan's jealousy starts to get the best of her. As a result, Joan begins to probe William about his sexual experiences and soon learns his fling with Lynn had been his fondest.

Meanwhile, Toni agrees to give Todd a divorce and accepts a date with an old boyfriend and Maya decides to tell Todd about Toni's big date, forcing him to acknowledge that he still loves his wife.
